TO: POD Members

FROM: Mary Lynn Crow, POD Network Executive Director

Of the 263 current POD members, 106 voted in the Core Committee election. The seven individuals who received the largest number of votes are (in alphabetical order):

T. Earle Bowen, Jr.

Glenn R. Erickson

Charles A. Goldsmitd (Chic)

Barbara B. Helling

Jack Lindquist

B. Claude Mathis

Luann Wilkerson

The vote totals are available in this office and will gladly be provided you upon individual request.

Let me once again express our sincere appreciation to all 23 of you who volunteered to serve. The election was very close, and it is my personal hope that those of you who were not elected this year will choose to run again next year. In the meantime, your talent is still very much needed on POD's committees and task forces.

For those of you who will be attending the March AAHE meeting at the Conrad Hilton in Chicago, please plan to attend POD's cash bar and reception to be held Monday, March 20, in the Bellaire Room from 5 to 7 PM. At this time the newly-elected Core Committee members will be introduced. We will look forward to seeing everyone there!

Steve Phillips, Chairman of the Committee on Support Groups, reports that only a few POD members indicated an interest. He suggests therefore that POD not plan any support group activities at this time.

Mark your calendars now for POD's 1978 National Conference.

Sunday, November 5 - Wednesday, November 8
Shangri-La Lodge
Afton, Oklahoma

Clare Rose's Conference Planning Committee reports that this year's location is on Monkey Island on the Grand Lake of the Cherokees just outside of Tulsa, Oklahoma. Room and board (double occupancy) will include three meals each day, and will cost $38.93 per person per day. Single occupancy will also be available at a higher rate. This is a residential location but is large enough to accommodate more participants this year. At a later date you will of course receive additional information regarding the conference registration fee, registration arrangements, and other conference information. The important thing for now is to MARK YOUR CALENDAR.

By the way, are you aware of a major curriculum project which you think might be of interest to the higher education community? The office of Teaching Innovation and Evaluation Services at the University of California, Berkeley, has been awarded a contract by the American Association for Higher Education to write an ERIC monograph on Curriculum Design and Evaluation in Higher Education. They are interested in including recent unpublished and ongoing examples of current curriculum design and evaluation efforts. If you have such data, contact Lynn Wood, Assistant Director, Teaching Innovation and Evaluation Services, 273 Stephens Hall, University of California, Berkeley, Berkeley, California 94720, 415/642-6392.
